The blueprint of the design draws from the agricultural industry specifically farming and motifs. Colors are derived from the heritage houses and structures. Combining this with the modern ideology, is to unlock a new sense of optimism in experience. Design elements are further created to have a fine tension between old and new in order to strike contrast. The multi-dimensional space is treated with Neo-Surrealism in style which leads to a mixed reality. This opens up portals to a breakdown of old geometries and looks out for originality.

In July 1996 the first Bagel Brothers branch was opened in Leipzig - exactly where you still buy your bagels - in Nikolaistraße. With 50 seats and the concept of a Bagel Brothers sandwich restaurant.

The not insignificant intermediate piece.

But before anyone can say - that was easy. Moment! In the year in between it was called: Bake all night, train in bagel bakeries in New York, New Jersey and Chicago, learn from the master and bake, knead and bake again. It goes without saying that all the formal stuff, a concept and a bar were also included.

And if they haven't all been eaten, they are still there today.

Since the start in 1996, there have been freshly cooked and baked bagels, muffins, brownies, cookies and donuts as well as espresso specialties, fresh fruit juices, drinks and crunchy salads every day - still in Leipziger Nikolaistraße - but now also in Karli in Bonn and Hanover.

Based on such significance, the efforts of the government under the leadership of the Custodian of the Two Holy Mosques, may Allah bless him, resulted in establishing an independent organization under the name of (Saudi Export Development Authority). Story started in 1930 in Geneva, Switzerland at a restaurant called "Café de Paris" on 26 Rue Mont Blanc where the patron Chef Boubier in 1930 developed the world-famous sauce "Café de Paris" named after his restaurant and its recipe is still kept a top secret till today.

In 1942, Chef Boubier gifted his secret recipe to his daughter and her husband the new owners of "Café de Paris" restaurant who came up with the idea of offering a Single Menu Formula consisting of a Green Salad, 200 grams of Entrecôte Steak with "Café de Paris" sauce and homemade French Fries. This simple formula gained immediate worldwide fame and success. Many restaurateurs around the world tried to imitate our set formula and our "Café de Paris" sauce but never equaled our distinctive taste and texture which explains our motto "Toujours Imitée, Jamais Egalée".

Four generations later, Mr. François Vouillamoz, the current owner of the original Entrecôte Café de Paris Chez Boubier 1930 restaurant in Geneva is the only person in the world who holds the secret of the "Café de Paris" sauce as it was originated in 1930 and he blends it discretely at his kitchen laboratory underneath his restaurant
